New disability help service launched

A NEW free service designed to support people with disabilities, their family members and carers is available in the cities of Joondalup and Wanneroo.

UnitingCare West and Sussex Street Community Law Service have developed the Individual Disability Advocacy Service.

The new service helps people with disabilities to access transport, education and sport and recreation and deal with housing, financial and employment issues.

Services are available in Merriwa at 56 Baltimore Parade, and Joondalup at the Lotteries House on Boas Avenue. Call 1300 648 655.
