Homeless can rest easy in units

A NEW supported accommodation facility was opened in Perth City on Saturday by Housing Minister Troy Buswell.

Mr Buswell said $1.5 million had been provided by the government for the new Uniting Care West Homeless Support Service, which is made up of four two-bedroom units.

“These units will provide an additional eight beds for medium-term accommodation,” he said.

“Clients will be provided with support which will include counselling, education and training to assist them back into permanent housing and independent living.”
